Canaveral Sees Boom for Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Brevard County, which has been transformed from a sleepy citrus area to the nation's fastest growing county, prepared for a new boom today in the wake of Cape Canaveral's selection as America's jumping-off place to the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced Thursday that it will purchase 80,000 acres of land north and west of the Cape on which to construct launch pads and facilities for the monster Novarocket, the multimillion-pound thrust vehicle assigned to carry astronauts to the moon and beyond.

An official estimated a billion dollars would be spent on construction of at least four Nova and two additional Saturn launch pads.

The acquisition of 80,000 acres will increase the size of the Cape five-fold — from 17,000 to 97,000 acres. Most of the new land will be used primarily as a safety buffer zone to protect the populated areas from possible danger when one of the Novas blasts off.

Construction of launch sites is expected to start in about six months. The land acquisition, which NASA reported would cost $60 million, may erase thousands of acres of lush citrus groves, three Atlantic Ocean recreation beaches and three unincorporated towns and will force about 500 persons to move from their homes.

Plane Is Flown Out of Hills

PARISON, Ark. (AP) — R. C. Turner, a Little Rock pilot, flew a Dallas architect's light plane out of the treacherous mountains in which it landed safely Sunday after the motor quit.

Turner took off from a 900-foot grass-covered clearing Thursday, using such tricks as revving the motor with the brakes set and applying full wing flaps to get extra lift.

Workmen had planned to dislodge the plane from the tiny clearing in which Matt Howard of Dallas landed it Sunday after the motor quit at 7,000 feet.

Howard and two passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Weaver, also of Dallas, escaped injury in the emergency landing. Workmen had planned to dismantle the plane, but the rugged terrain made that idea impractical. A truck could not get within a quarter of a mile of the craft. Turner said the flight was "no trouble at all," although his makeshift runway was shorter than a normal takeoff area.

J. B. Powell Dies, Funeral on Saturday

J. B. Powell, 87, died at his home near Palm Springs Thursday. He was a life-long resident of this area, a member of the Baptist Church and a retired farmer.

Survivors include three sons, J. B. of Hope; Barney C. and Marvin C. of Palm Springs; two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Winberry and Miss Lola Powell of Palm Springs; three brothers, G. W. of Hope, A. E. of Palm Springs and Harmon of Texarkana, 24 grandchildren and 47 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at Mt. Nebo Baptist Church Saturday at 2:30 p.m., Elder W. E. Thompson and Elder E. B. Jones officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Nebo Cemetery, Oakcrest Mortuary in charge.

Weather

Experiment Station report for 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Thursday: High 90; low 64; precipitation .20 inch. Total precipitation this year through July 33.89 inch, for same period last year 22.42.

Rev. Pendleton at 1st Christian

Guest speaker at First Christian Church Sunday morning will be the Rev. Edmund Pendleton of North Little Rock, former local pastor. All his friends are invited to hear him at the 10:30 a.m. service.

Negro School Bus Men Take Driver Tests

His Foreign Car Won't Stay Lost

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Southwestern student Don Eyles Jr. thought he had seen the last of his aggravating little foreign car — but it turned up again.

Police fished it out of the Mississippi River last Monday. Diligent police work traced the car to Eyles, who looked at it and sighed.

Yes, it was his, he said, but he had pushed it over a bluff during a fit of rage and wanted no further part of it.

Police will keep the auto 30 days, then sell it at auction. No charges were filed.

Board for Colleges Is Proposed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A special legislative session on money matters opened Thursday with Gov. Orval E. Faubus painting a glowing picture of state finances and promising a second special session to deal with congressional redistricting.

Sixty-two bills were introduced on the first day, most of them appropriation measures embodying recommendations of the Legislative Council. None was acted upon.

Among the bills were two to create an overall board of control for institutions of higher learning. Little Rocker Rep. Marion Crank introduced one of them in the House, and Sen. Tom Allen of Brinkley introduced a duplicate in the Senate.

There were indications on opening day that the session may not be cut and dried. A faction which favors cutting the $27,892,010 surplus into large chunks for a few especially needy agencies went into action early.

Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County introduced a bill to give the State Hospital about $10.7 million, reportedly enough to take care of all its immediate needs. The Legislative Council recommended only $6,048,000 for the State Hospital, and another bill was introduced for that amount.

Garland Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr. introduced a bill to provide $1.4 million for new construction at the Children's Colony, and Pike Rep. Alvis Stokes introduced a similar bill for $1.3 million. The council did not recommend any money for new construction.

A proposed new building for the Revenue Department may cause some trouble. Rep. Gayle Windsor of Pulaski County introduced a bill to repeal a law authorizing the $1.6 building.

Aside from these developments, the legislature stuck closely to the outline drawn by the council in hearings earlier this month. The council recommended $23,570,260.

Urge Early District Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the House is going to act to increase its membership, it had better hurry. That's the view of Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark.

Harris told a House subcommittee considering three bills to boost House membership that any action must be taken soon so state legislatures will know where they stand. Unless House membership is increased, most states will have to redistrict.

Harris said his remarks Thursday were for all of the Arkansas congressional delegation in support of a bill by Rep. Frank Chelf, D-Ky., to add 34 members, increasing the House from 435 to 469 members.

Other bills before the committee would add 18 members to the House or four members. Harris objected to the bill to add only four members, but said the other proposal should be approved if the Chelf bill is not.

Under the Chelf bill, Arkansas would not lose any congressmen. It would lose one under the 18-member plan. It stands to lose two congressmen if House membership isn't increased.

FOLLOWING THE WHITE SCHOOL BUS MEN OF THE day before, Negro school bus operators took their driving tests under supervision of the state police this morning.

Audrey Meadows Weds Robert Six

HONOLULU (AP) — Actress Audrey Meadows and Robert F. Six, president of Continental Air Lines, were married Thursday in an Episcopal ceremony. They will leave tonight for a tour of the Far East.

The marriage was the second for Miss Meadows and the third for Six. His second wife was singer Ethel Merman. Miss Meadows said she will continue her television and motion picture work.

Dangerous Incidents in Berlin

By JOHN FIEHN

BERLIN (AP) — Outbursts of violence on both sides of the Berlin border kept tension and tempers high in this 13th day of the war of nerves since the Communists threw up barricades through the city.

There was a series of incidents Thursday.

A West Berlin mob attacked a bus loaded with Soviet soldiers. Saboteurs halted the Red-run railway and elevated system in the Western sector for 10 minutes. East German police shot and killed a fleeing refugee.

Indication of the Communists' next moves against West Berlin was expected Friday afternoon from Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's chief of state and Communist party boss. He scheduled a television appearance in East Berlin, speaking on "What Comes Next in Berlin."

With orders to fire if fired upon, American GIs stood guard during the night in drenching rain close up to the Communists' fortified line along with British and French forces and West Berlin police.

Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel, commander of the 6,500-man U.S. garrison in Berlin, toured the border in the American sector during the early morning hours. About 600 American troops—some with rifles slung over their shoulders, others behind machine guns—maintained the night watch.

The first known fatality of the nerve war came when Communist police killed an East German who plunged into a waterway near the old Reichstag building and tried to swim to the West.

American MPs and West Berlin police rescued 25 Soviet soldiers traveling to the Red army's war memorial near the Brandenburg Gate from a mob of West Berliners shouting "Swine."

A Communist protest appeared likely over two attempts to sabotage traffic on the Red-run railway and elevated lines that still operate between East and West.

Heavy steel bars were discovered blocking railroad tracks near West End station only minutes before a freight train, bound for West Germany, was due. Police said a major disaster was averted. Elevated traffic was also held up by bars across the rails.

A private Western intelligence agency reported hundreds of arrests in East Germany of persons for raising their voices against the sealing of the border.

HAWAII — Scheduled to participate in a large "fleet sail" aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger, when the carrier departs Hawaii, Aug. 26 for a cruise to the Western Pacific is James W. Wreyford, MM-2c, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wreyford of R. 1, Fulton, Ark.

Death for Truck Driver Who Stole

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet court sentenced a truck driver to death by shooting for hijacking furs and textiles from a state enterprise, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Vaccine for Cancer to Be Given Humans

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Cleveland scientist says he is ready to prepare for tests on humans an anti-cancer vaccine that has worked on laboratory animals.

Dr. Sergio de Carvalho said actual production and use of such a vaccine would take about a year to prepare for. Antibodies that would be used to fight cancer in humans, he said, would be grown in horses.

He said efforts are being made to develop serum that would work effectively against different but related types of cancers. He does not think a single serum would fight all types of cancer.

Dr. de Carvalho announced on Thursday he has developed an immunizing serum that was used to treat and prevent cancer and leukemia in animals. Preliminary reports are encouraging, he said, but it may be some time before any conclusive findings can be reached.

With this serum, he said, he has protected rats with a high susceptibility to cancer so that no cancer implants take hold in them.

Dr. de Carvalho, director of cancer research with Rand Development Corp. here, reported his findings at the 19th annual meeting of the Electron Microscope Society of America in Pittsburgh.

He said he worked closely with scientists from Parke, Davis and Co., a Detroit pharmaceutical firm.

He said these research results have led him to believe he may develop a vaccine for a successful fight against cancer in humans.

1. Material extracted from cancer tumors and grown in the laboratory looks, under an electron microscope, just like a virus, long suspected as a possible cause of cancer in humans.

2. He has been able to take this material, inject it into a horse, and have the horse manufacture an antibody serum that later inhibited cancer in animals.

3. He has developed a theory of the mechanics of virus behavior that would account for the cancer-inhibiting effects on animals.

4. Although the end products have so far been tested on animals, he said, the original cancer-causing agents were grown from extracts of human cancer cells.

3 Dead, 2 Injured in Collision

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — Three Chicago residents were killed and two other persons were injured late Thursday in a two-car, head-on collision 5½ miles north of Sikeston on U.S. 61.

The dead were Leunial Pitts, 31; Gloria Halleburton, 26, and Marie Allen, 46, all of Chicago.

Injured were Madeline Mayfield, 33, Champaign, Ill., a passenger in Pitts' car, and Albert Louis Burgdorf, 34, of Sikeston, driver of the other car.

The highway patrol said Pitts, a Negro, turned his car into the path of Burgdorf's car.

Physician of East Berlin Tells Why He and Family Fled to Western Sector

Editor's Note—Dr. Ernst Lehnhardt, a staff doctor at East Berlin's Charite Hospital, fled to West Berlin with his family shortly after the Communists closed the border Aug. 13. Writing for The Associated Press, he tells of his mounting dissatisfaction with life under communism and of his final desperate dash to "a completely new life—but such a better one."

By DR. ERNST LEHNHARDT
Written for The AP

BERLIN (AP)—My wife, our 6-year-old son and I lived in Karlshorst, a good residential area in East Berlin. We had our own house. It was large, with a pleasant garden, but run down. We could not get any repairs because of the labor shortage.

Though only 37, I held a position of responsibility at the Charite Hospital, East Germany's best. My salary from the state was 2,000 marks ($500 at the official exchange rate) a month, which put me in a high income group under the Communist regime.

But although my professional

France Denies Atrocity Story

TUNIS (AP)—The Tunisian government claims France summarily executed 100 persons—many of them women—during last month's bloody fighting for the Bizerte naval base. France has denied Tunisian charges of atrocities.

Shots Fired by Reds at Barricade

BERLIN (AP) — Communist guards fired warning shots today to scare away about 30 West Berliners who had crowded to the barbed wire barrier in the French sector to watch Red activity on the other side.

West Berlin police said of the incident at Frolman that a Communist suddenly ordered: "Go back 100 meters (110 yards) or we will shoot."

The crowd did not move. Then came a rattle of gun fire. Western police persuaded the people then to pull back for their own safety.

The incident was another in outbursts of violence on both sides of the border that kept tension and tempers high in this 13th day of the border war of nerves.

For the first time since 1948 the U.S. Army garrison in Berlin has artillery support—six 105mm howitzers. The howitzers, however, and parked at McNair barracks, miles from the city border.

The howitzers have a range of about 2,000 yards. An Army spokesman said they are fitted to use only standard shells and not atomic warheads. Tank guns have been the biggest armament of the garrison, swelled by reinforcements last Sunday to 6,500 men.

"Our orders are to be able to shoot, move and communicate," said Sgt. John L. Sanders of Amarillo, Tex.

There has been no shooting from the West Berlin side of the border. From the East Berlin, all the serious shooting has been at refugees.

The howitzers are designed to belated wherever they are needed. The garrison has been posting tanks as well as infantrymen at the border.

Neues Deutschland, the official organ of the Communist party in East Germany, intimated today there is no "practical sense" to American tank movements.

The paper described the action as a provocation "and an insult to the entire German people, on whose table once again rest the dirty boots of the American soldier."

In West Germany, Frankfurt's independent Neue Presse said of the new events: "The Western powers have been threatened directly. Now they have to decide whether or not they will allow their rights to be breached."

Methodist Open House on Sunday

The public is invited to attend Open House at First Methodist Church Sunday evening, Aug. 27, when the children of the church school will be hosts to their parents and friends in the new educational building for children.

The occasion is Promotion Day and at 6:30 the children will act as guides to conduct the guests through the rooms of the new building.

Members of the building committee will receive in the chapel of the building. At 6:50 primary and junior age children will report to their respective departments, and at 7 the promotion day program will be held in the church sanctuary.

British Warn Air Lanes Inviolable

By ARTHUR GAYSHON

LONDON (AP)—Britain warned the Soviet Union anew today that any bid to interfere with Western flying rights into West Berlin would create a dangerous situation and that Moscow would be to blame.

The Foreign Office disclosed it has advised British nationals contemplating visits to East Germany that they would travel at their own risk.

A spokesman told newsmen the United States, Britain and France probably will send notes rejecting the Soviet charges that use of the air corridors to Berlin is being abused by the Allies. The replies of the three powers are expected to be sent within the next five days.

The new British warning came when the spokesman recalled that in September 1960 the Russians suggested in a note to the West that they might tamper with the Western air corridors.

The spokesman said Britain (then advised Moscow: "The United Kingdom government warns the Soviet government that any attempt from whatever quarter to introduce any restrictions would create a dangerous situation for the consequences of which the Soviet government would be fully responsible."

"The spokesman added: "That was our view last year, and that is our view today."

West Europe saw in the latest Soviet moves the threat of a direct menace to the city's lifeline with the non-Communist world.

The Laborite Herald called the Soviet note "an insulting message."

The right-wing Daily Express said Soviet Premier Khrushchev had gone even farther than Stalin during the 1948 blockade. "Certainly the Russian leader is damaging his own cause," it said.

The right-wing Paris Combat said: "If the West accepts this new measure, tomorrow the Americans, British and French will have to submit to its control. And the day after tomorrow there will remain nothing to do in West Berlin but to submit to all the edicts of East German party boss Ulbricht and Khrushchev."

In West Germany, Frankfurt's independent Neue Presse said of the new events: "The Western powers have been threatened directly. Now they have to decide whether or not they will allow their rights to be breached."

Peace Corps Bill Passed by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's bill to establish the overseas Peace Corps on a permanent basis was passed today by the Senate.

The measure, which now goes to the House, authorizes $40 million for the corps' first year with the intent of putting 2,700 volunteers abroad or in training by next June 30.

Just before passage on a voice vote, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, withdrew an amendment proposing to cut the money authorization to $30 million.

Hickenlooper said Thursday's 93 to 32 defeat of his previous amendment to cut the fund to $25 million substantially settled that issue.

Hickenlooper joined in supporting passage with what he called "mixed emotions."

He said some of the Peace Corps volunteers have been attracted by the idea of seeing "strange and exotic places and eating exotic food."

"But I predict it will not be a picnic," he added. "And I hope we do not delude ourselves into thinking this is the answer to all human relations."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor leader for the bill, had predicted passage.

France Is Losing UN Tunisia Talk

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly winds up its Tunisian debate tonight, and all indications point to overwhelming approval for a resolution calling on France to take her troops off Tunisian soil.
In an effort to reach a vote tonight, Assembly President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland scheduled morning, afternoon and night sessions to clean up the list of 15 speakers.
Supporters of the resolution predicted it would poll far more than the two-thirds vote needed for adoption despite expected abstentions by the United States and other allies of France.
The sponsors anticipated no more than half a dozen negative votes from colonial powers. Others opposed to the resolution in appears to be out, but press secretary Pierre Salinger said he may get out of Washington for a week or 10 days. When this will happen or where he will go is uncertain, but it is likely he will wait until Congress adjourns. Congressional leaders are aiming for adjournment in mid-September.

effect censuring France were expected to abstain.

The resolution calls on France to withdraw her troops from territory seized during last month's fighting around the Bizerte naval base and to negotiate a schedule for complete troop withdrawal from Tunisia. Tunisia and the resolution's 32 sponsors rejected efforts by the Western powers and African nations allied with France to delete the passages implying censure of the French.

Bitter over France's defiance of a Security Council call for a troop pullback in Bizerte and her boycott of the assembly debate, the resolution's sponsors insisted on putting the blame on the Paris government.
Their adamant stand reportedly persuaded even most of the pro-French African states to support the resolution.

The debate has been marked by running Communist attacks on all foreign bases occupied by Western powers, and Thursday there was a sharp exchange between the United States and Cuba and the Soviet Union.

Cuban delegate Mario Garcia-Inchausti charged that the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo exists "against Cuba" and that mercenaries are mobilizing there and in Puerto Rico to attack. He brushed aside the 1901 treaty under which the United States holds the base, asserting that the big power could not use treaties to

Would Avoid Religious Controversy

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A wide-ranging search began today for ways to help reconcile the clashes between American religious groups over public issues.

Top leaders of various faiths, from Rome to Geneva to Jerusalem, were to be consulted in the process.

Also, examples in the Old World were expected to provide some answers to problems in the New World.

The effort is being led by a key interdenominational diplomat, Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Noting intensified conflicts between religious groups in this country over various questions, such as public support for parochial schools, birth control policies, Sunday closing laws and other matters, he said: "Unless some clearer consensus can be reached, the strength and unity which America has drawn from the common acceptance of the Judeo-Christian tradition will be weakened and dissipated."

"Neither at home nor abroad can Americans afford such a loss."

As an initial part of the new four-year project, underwritten justify their keeping foreign bases.

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson rejected the Cuban charge as absurd and said the Guantanamo base was maintained for defense of the Western Hemisphere—"not for attack on the hemisphere."

It has chiefly involved Protestant - Roman Catholic parleys.

U. S. Brushes Off Threat to Air Lane

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. authorities said today civilian airlines will keep flying into West Berlin despite a "severely veiled threat" by the Soviet Union to clamp down on flights.

The authorities cited both precedent and past agreements signed by the Soviets as allowing commercial flights to Berlin without interference.

In a tough-worded statement approved by President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the U.S. government Thursday rejected as false Soviet charges that the Western powers are air-lifting West German spies and saboteurs to West Berlin.

The new Kremlin note said that in transportation of Germans to West Berlin the Western powers are abusing the air corridors to the city, "taking advantage of the absence of control over air communications."

The U.S. statement, issued at the White House, denounced the Moscow protest as cynical and irresponsible at a time when the Reds, in "direct violation" of the agreements to unify Germany, built a barricade sealing off East Berlin.

The Soviet complaint about relations between West Germany and West Berlin cannot be taken seriously at a time when Moscow is claiming East Berlin is part of East Germany, the U.S. statement said.

"What must be taken seriously by the whole world, however, is the severely veiled threat of aggression against the Allied air routes to and from West Berlin," it said.

"The United States must serve a solemn warning to the Soviet Union that any interference by the Soviet government or its East German regime with free access to West Berlin would be an aggressive act for the consequences of which the Soviet government would bear full responsibility."

Three commercial airlines, one for each of the Western occupying powers, now fly the three 100-mile air corridors that connect West Berlin with West Germany. U.S. authorities made these points:

1. A 1945 agreement of the Allied Control Council, the postwar governing body for Germany that included the Soviet Union, provided for use of air corridors to Berlin by Allied planes. The Soviets subsequently tried to restrict this to military aircraft, but the control council did not agree.

2. Despite Soviet contentions that flights to Berlin are authorized only to supply Western garrisons there, none of the documents agreed on by the occupying powers specifies what the air corridors can be used for.

3. Although the Soviets sit on the Berlin air safety center, the Soviet representatives has no power to veto plane flights. The air center's job was described as an automatic, mechanical one designed to keep air traffic unlogged—not with power to stop the flights.

Board for for construction and other projects at state institutions, $2,721,750 for re-appropriations of money several institutions had on hand but couldn't spend without legislative authority, and $1.6 million for construction of the Revenue Department building. Bills were introduced Thursday following these recommendations.

Faubus, in his address to a joint session, said he would call the legislature back for a second special session as soon as this one is completed if an agreement is reached on congressional redistricting.

State Sen. Fred Stafford of Marked Tree said the only thing holding up a compromise on the issue is a decision by Arkansas County leaders as to which congressional district the county should be in.

He said the compromise would put Jefferson and Lincoln counties in the southeastern district where they want to be, Arkansas County wants out of the northeastern district, but may go into a north central district rather than the southern district.

A congressional redistricting law passed earlier this year has been referred to a popular vote and unless there is some action, congressional candidates will have to run statewide in 1962.

In his speech, Faubus said increases in revenue were higher than expected and public schools will get $8 million instead of $7 million during the year. Other agencies also will get increases.

He said the surplus the legislature is called upon to spend is the largest in the history of the state and speaks well "for the members of the general assembly, the administrative agencies, and the people at large."

Faubus asked for $400,000 for State Police salaries, and said that provision must be made to take care of needed expansion at the Children's Colony. But he said the state cannot afford to care for retarded adults at the colony.

The council recommended only $225,000 to complete a building in progress at the colony. But Woodruff Rep. Jack Oakes told the council at a meeting Thursday the administration had agreed to back a $400,000 appropriation for new construction at the colony.

One of the most important moves of the day was introduction of the overall board of control bills. Members of a bloc pledged to thwart appropriations for the university and colleges unless such a bill is passed made no open move.

Both Allen and Crank denied connection with the bloc. Their duplicate bills would create a 10-member board with membership restricted to two from any of the six present congressional districts and three graduates of any one institution.

The board would submit budgets and recommend construction for all institutions and would have the final say on establishment of any new educational programs. But the individual boards would retain authority over existing programs.

Board members would be appointed by the governor to 10-year terms.

Pulaski Rep. Glenn Waller introduced a bill to set aside $2.5 million a year from general revenues about $102 million for a continuing construction fund. He said such a fund would eliminate the possibility of emergency construction needs arising in the future. The fund also would be used

Mrs. James Gilbert

In a candlelight ceremony marked by beauty and solemnity, Miss Ann Cole and James Gilbert exchanged their wedding vows at 7:00 on Thursday evening, August 24th in the First Methodist Church, Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cole, the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ansley Gilbert all of Hope.

The Rev. W. C. Gentry, Jr., of Little Rock officiated at the double ring ceremony. The vows were spoken before an altar banked with Commodore fern and Emerald palms. White cathedral tapers glowing softly in seven branched candelabras, entwined with smilax, which formed a graceful arch overhead.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Luther Holloman, Jr., organist. With a background of soft music, Jimmy Tate and Bill Hair, both of Hope, lighted the candles.

The bride who was escorted to the altar by her father wore an original creation of Camelia white silk tulle and Alencon lace over tulle and tulle. The figure lace bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, outlined with dainty scallops and accented with hand-embroidered lace which was fastened in the back with small self-covered buttons. The long fitted sleeves ended in petal points over the hands and were fastened with small buttons. The bodice skirt marked at the hip-line with inverted pleats and sprays of embroidered lace swept into a chapel train which was richly appliqued with lace flowers. The circular finger-tip veil of French silk illusion was held in place by a Juliet cap of Alencon lace and silk tulle encrusted with seed pearls. The brides cascade bouquet was of white roses from which showered white satin ribbon tied with love knots and fleur de amour. The bouquet was mounted on a white satin ribbon. For sentiments the bride wore a strand of heirloom pearls and carried a silk lace hand-painted handkerchief carried by the brides mother at her wedding, in her white slipper was a six-pence.

Miss Kay Gresham of North Little Rock was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Betty by revenues from a 12-day extension of the horse race season at Hot Springs, matinee meetings at the West Memphis dog racing track and surplus revenues from a 1961 tightening of use tax exemptions.

The legislature will appropriate money from three funds:

A State Construction Fund will draw $11.7 million from surplus funds and $1 million from the reserve. From this will come appropriations for everything except university and college construction.

A Contingent Construction Fund will be created from the remaining $7.5 million in the reserve. The university and colleges will get this money.

An Institutional Construction Fund of $3.3 million will be created from anticipated surpluses, and the money also will go to the university and colleges as it becomes available.

Faubus said 30 per cent of budget increases allocated by the 1961 regular session would be available to agencies this fiscal year, instead of 70 percent as forecast.

Non-budget legislation introduced Thursday included bills to permit building of a Red Cross blood bank at State Hospital property in Little Rock; to repeal a 1961 act which repealed the railroad lookout statute and to re-define railroad liability; and to re-narrow authority for the Stadium Commission to refund its bonded debt on War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock.

Bryant of Hope and Miss Mary Jo Hammond of El Dorado. They wore frocks of willow green imported silk over tulle. The bodice featured a crushed cowl neckline in front which formed a deep V of diagonally draped folds, which was marked at the waist with a small bow. The full skirt fell in soft folds to chapel length. They wore matching silk bandeaux with wide circular welts on illusion and carried colonial bouquets of dainty Marguerite daisies.

David Watkins of Hope served as best man. Ushers were Jimmy Tate and Bill Hair of Hope, Phil Hightower and Jerry Scriber of Crossett and Carry Dalton of Piggott, all of whom are Sigma Chi fraternity brothers of the groom at the University of Arkansas.

Mrs. Cole chose for her daughters wedding a turquoise dress of lace over pearly de sole with matching accessories. She wore a pink Glammie corsage. Mrs. Gilbert, mother of the groom was attired in a mauve lace dress featuring an organza cummerbund of matching color. She wore matching accessories and pinned a white Glammie at her shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jones, aunt and uncle of the bride, entertained with a reception at the Hope Country Club immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Jones invited the guests into the club room which was beautifully decorated in green and white, the brides chosen colors. The mantle forming a lovely background for the bride's table, was graced by glowing candles and greenery. The table was draped with a white lace cloth and centered with an exquisite floral arrangement of white stock in an antique silver and crystal epergne with lighted white tapers. The crystal punch bowl was at one end of the table with the four tiered square wedding cake at the other end. The cake was decorated with white roses and wedding bells. From the brides table Miss Sue Moore of Hope and Mrs. John Morgan Deaton of Arkadelphia served the cake; Miss Brenda Hamm of Hope and Miss Susan Davidson of Camden presided at the punch bowl.

The bride's bouquet lay at the base of the Pearl-encrusted memory candle draped with heirloom lace on the registry table, attended by Miss Anna Whitman.

Miss Brenda Cannon of Rayville, Louisiana, and Miss Melanie Pankey of Hope, cousin of the bride, offered tiny yellow and green rice bags to the guests. Those assisting in serving were Miss Charlotte Norton of Smackover, Miss Kai Brooks of Crossett, Misses Mary Margaret Daniels, Judy McDowell and Sandra Hobbs all of Hope and Miss Betsy Upton of Camden, cousin of the bride.

Following the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip before going to Fayetteville where both are students at the University of Arkansas. For travel the bride wore a costume suit of olive green silk which was accented by a white cowl neckline. She chose black accessories and pinned white roses from her bouquet at her shoulder.

Retaliation Is Rule for Both Sides

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This whole Berlin crisis has now become a game of tit for tat—with both sides playing it, the United States as well as the Soviet Union — although it's like playing hockey with a dynamite cap.

Both sides talk of reaching a peaceful settlement. Neither attempts a move to start it. And meanwhile both lighten the crisis.

The Communists seal off East Berlin to keep non-Communist East Germans from escaping to West Berlin. The United States won't interfere but it sends 1,500 troops into West Berlin, not for any practical purpose but as a gesture.

The Reds retaliate by making it harder for Westerners to cross into East Berlin. The United States, Britain and France rush troops and tanks to the barricades. They are not going to do anything either.

So troops on both sides glare at each other over the barricade while the last thing any of them wants is shooting.

The latest move: a Moscow note to Washington accusing the United States of ferrying spies and saboteurs into Berlin.

As usual, the whole crisis started with talk.

Premier Khrushchev began by repeated warnings early in 1961 that he would sign a peace treaty with the East German Communists, a move the Allies interpret as the first in a series to shut them off from West Berlin altogether.

Then on June 3-4 in his Vienna talks with President Kennedy, he set a six-month deadline for signing the treaty and making Berlin a "free city." The West can't stop him from signing the treaty but it could fight to stay in Berlin.

By June 28 Khrushchev had made four speeches, repeating his warning and accusing the West of building up Berlin tensions. On June 29 at a news conference Kennedy said Khrushchev was building up tensions.

Khrushchev threw another coal on the fire July 4 when he ordered a 25 per cent increase in Soviet defense spending. And Kennedy replied in kind July 25 in his TV talk to the nation when he announced a buildup in American defenses and pledged American support of West Berlin.

East Germans had been fleeing from Communist East Germany into West Berlin at the rate of 1,000 a day but Khrushchev's belated talk scared them into crossing over at the rate of 2,000 a day.

This was a reaction Khrushchev could neither have expected nor wanted since the Communist regime in East Germany badly needed the manpower which was dashing westward.

Soon Aug. 13 the Communists sent troops and tanks to the edges of East Berlin, sealed off all the escape hatches for the East Germans but still let visitors from West Berlin move into East Berlin.

Neither the United States nor any of the other Allies was willing to do anything to force the East German Communists to open the hatches again since that would probably mean war. So all the Allies did was stand by and protest.

West Berlin lies not in West Germany but 110 miles inside East Germany and people and supplies bound for the city can't get through from the West unless the East German Communists let them through.

Nevertheless German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, running for re-election, talked ominously of wanting trade between the two Germanys shut off. He dropped that kind of talk when the East Germans warned, if he tried it, to blockade Berlin altogether.

But the West Berliners and their mayor, Willy Brandt, who's running against Adenauer, got exasperated by the willingness of the Allies to protest and do nothing. They wanted action.

So Kennedy sent Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson over in a hurry to cheer them up. This he seemed to do although he added nothing new when he pledged the United States to defend West Berlin. Kennedy himself had done that weeks before.

Kennedy also took 1,500 American troops out of their regular defense positions in West Germany and sent them into West Berlin. (The Soviets let them travel through East Germany to get to the city since, to stop them, might have meant war.)

But the troops, while the sight of them may have boosted West Berlin morale, added nothing to the defense of the city. They're in a box in Berlin whereas they weren't in West Germany since there are about 400,000 East German and Soviet troops surrounding West Berlin in East Germany.

Then Adenauer visited the city. This, on top of the Johnson visit, irritated the Communists and they retaliated by tightening restrictions on Westerners, including troops and diplomats, who might want to go from West Berlin into East Berlin.

Not to be outdone the United

Mother's Fate Clouds Girl's Future

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am 20, was graduated from high school in 1959 and live at home. Ours is a small town with few opportunities. Work is seasonal. I could get a steady job elsewhere but Mom doesn't want me to leave home. She fears I'll meet my real mother's fate. You see, I am adopted.

But at 20, I feel capable of taking care of myself, even though my foster parents don't. My doctor agrees with them. My guidance director at school does not share this belief. All of my classmates have either found jobs in other cities or are going to college in other areas.

No one knows who my real father was; therefore, Mom assumes I am illegitimate. I refuse to let this past, whatever it is, beset my future. Nevertheless, it does. I try to reason with my parents and, no matter what, we wind up hurting one another. In a few weeks I shall receive a tax refund from the jobs I've held. Should I use it to go where I can lead my own life or continue to exist from day to day, taking what comes? —J.

Dear J.: At 20, whether a natural or adopted daughter, you certainly have a right to your own life. But, difficult though your parents may be, never lose sight of your debt to them. They believe as they do because they love you. However, if you are ever to test your strength it may cut the silver cord. Take your money and go to another town where the horizon is wider. But, before you leave, tell your parents why and let there be no doubt in their minds, or yours, that you love them dearly. Explain that now is your chance to prove the worth of their upbringing.

Dear Helen: I married a divorced man eight years ago and believed that his former wife to blame for their marriage going on the rocks. Now, I wonder. In one sense, he has been a good husband but lately he's taken to lying about the reason for certain trips. Another woman is involved.

When I said "This is the end!" he got down on his knees and begged forgiveness, insisting I am the only woman he ever loved. Everything we have is in my name, including a new home and car. I love him and am loathe to walk out, yet how can I ever trust him again? Should I give him another chance or leave him stranded? If I go, I can't take our boys for I'll need to work. The grandparents would look after them. My husband cried all States, Britain and France sent troops and tanks to the barricades now separating East and West Berlin for no apparent reason—since neither side wants war—unless to glare at the Communist troops on the other side.

And Wednesday Johnson reportedly recommended a buildup of U.S. military equipment in West Berlin although he was reported convinced that the situation there is extremely explosive with tension running so high a minor incident could touch off a major clash.

last night. I am 31, he 40. I don't know which way to turn. —Worried Wife and Mother.

Dear Worried Wife: Give your husband another chance. Hard enough his philandering has been to accept, you have your boys as well as yourself to consider. Life for them without a father won't be easy. At least your husband is contrite and, being in his forties, this could be his last fling.

Dear Helen: Though a senior in high school, I prefer being with children of 12 or 13—my brother's age. My boy friend is only in the seventh grade. My parents are beside themselves over all this. They say I should be with kids my own age. I have a drivers license and get my pleasure in piling the car with youngsters and hauling them where they want to go. Am I a funny character, or is this normal for a girl in her mid-teens? —Jo.

Dear Jo: Your desire to be with children is probably an outcropping of the maternal instinct, ever-present in all girls. It's okay if you and your parents won't take this quick too seriously. School yourself to think the problem through. How about preparing yourself for the day when you'll have children of your own, by majoring in Home Economics or Child Psychology?

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Better Home Management."

Gamblers Beat Law, Probe Hears

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probes try to show today how the underworld blends trickery with modern electronics to beat the law in promoting big-time gambling.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee already has heard testimony that corruption of some law enforcement officials is one other tried and true method. No one at the hearing has yet put the finger on any official as taking graft.

Among witnesses called by the subcommittee was Elum (Bill)

Under Florida law it is illegal to transmit any race information from a track for an hour before the races start and for a half hour after each race has ended.

Gerstein told how bookies' agents use tiny radio transmitters hidden in a girdle worn inside their shirts, wig-wag with their hands to confederates outside the track, and use relays of messengers and other devices.

from day to day. West Berliners we employed were deciding not to cross over.

Supplies and equipment were very short. What we did have came mostly from the West.

On the evening of Aug. 11 a telephone call came from friends in East Germany. They wanted to visit us the next day. Why so suddenly, we asked. They said they had decided to flee to West Berlin. I was to drive them over the border Sunday morning, with their few pieces of luggage. Since I was a doctor, with a certain freedom of movement, there would be no trouble.

How many friends already had come to us under these circumstances. It had happened so often that we had practically none left. Why did we remain? We asked ourselves that Saturday. What was holding us in East Berlin, which we hated so much?

Saturday night, after our friends had arrived and we had all gone to bed, I thought I heard the rumble of moving tanks. But I was only half-awakened and fell back asleep again without looking. Early in the morning our friends rushed in from the living room, where they had turned on the radio. They had just heard the announcement that the border had been closed.

My wife and I decided immediately that the time had come for us—for our own sake, for the sake of our child.

I had to put my own family first. My little car could not carry us all. We bade the saddest of farewells to our friends.

Hurrying all of us—including our dog—into the car, I made for the Brandenburg Gate by the shortest route. It seemed to be the likeliest place to get through, if that was still possible, because of the great width of the crossing there.

The nearer we got to the Brandenburg Gate, the thicker became the people's police, the Communist soldiers, the tanks.

When we were about 100 yards away, a policeman stopped us. As of today, he said, only I could go over to West Berlin, and then only unless I could prove I had official business. My family would have to stay behind.

I argued that I was needed urgently and could not waste time by taking my family back to the house. The policeman would not yield. Finally I asked to speak with his chief.

Then it happened. The fear of pistols and submachineguns disappeared before the fear of a lifetime of captivity.

I threw the car into gear and raced forward. The soldiers and policeman stared, too startled to

M. & M. Draw Blank, Yanks Lose Ground

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Angels once more thwarted Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle in their pursuit of Babe Ruth's home run record and beat New York 6-4 Thursday night in their last meeting with the Yankees this season.

In the final three-game series, Maris and Mantle each had just three hits in a combined total of 22 at-bats against Angels pitching, and only one was a home run. That came in the series opener and it was No. 50 for Maris, now just 11 games ahead of Ruth's 1927 pace when he hit 60. Mantle, with 46, is five games ahead of the Babe.

The loss trimmed the Yankees' lead over Detroit to two games again. The second-place Tigers whipped Cleveland 6-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Frank Lary, who won his 10th.

Kansas City defeated Baltimore 5-3. Minnesota smacked the Chicago White Sox 3-0 and Boston beat Washington 5-4 in 10 innings. In the National League, Cincinnati ended San Francisco's streak at six games, 8-5. The second-place Los Angeles Dodgers lost their 10th in a row 10-1 at St. Louis. Milwaukee defeated Pittsburgh 6-1 and Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 7-4.

The Angels were out-hit 13-6 by the Yanks and didn't get a hit after the fourth inning. They didn't need any. Four unearned runs in the fourth had put it away against Jim Coates (9-4), with Joe Koppe's two-out, three-run double breaking a 3-3 tie.

Bobby Richardson was 5-for-5, but Maris was 0-for-4 and Mantle 1-for-4 against southpaw starter Ted Bowsfield and winning reliever Tom Morgan (6-2), a right-hander.

Lary (19-6) walked one and struck out two in putting away his 18th complete game in 25 starts for the Tigers, who backed him with 16 hits off loser Jim Perry (9-12) and two relievers.

Deron Johnson's two-run homer broke up a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning for the A's and beat Dick Hall (6-5). Bill Kunkel (3-3) was the winner.

Southpaw Jim Kaat (7-12), who tripled and scored the Twins' first run in the second inning, hung up his first major league shutout by limiting the White Sox to five singles. Ray Herbert (8-12) was the loser as the Sox suffered their second straight shutout.

The Red Sox made it on Jackie Jensen's second home run of the game, snapping a 4-4 tie with one out in the 10th.

$100,000 Jewel Theft in France

Reds Cool Off Giants in Final

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leo Cardenas and Richard L. Gernert, getting their chance in a lineup shakeup, paired for five hits and four RBI as Cincinnati, after losing four in a row, cooled off San Francisco 8-5 Thursday night.

That gave the Reds a 3½-game lead in the National League race again after the second place Los Angeles Dodgers lost their 10th in a row, 10-1 at St. Louis.

The Reds shook their slump with four unearned runs in the seventh inning, triggered by Cardenas' winning three run double, and ended San Francisco's winning string at six.

Milwaukee beat Pittsburgh 6-1, with Warren Spahn winning No. 303, and Philadelphia tagged the Chicago Cubs 7-4.

In the American League, the Los Angeles Angels rapped New York 6-4, once again shutting off Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle without a home run. Second-place Detroit defeated Cleveland 6-0.

Kansas City beat Baltimore 5-3. Minnesota smacked the Chicago White Sox 3-0 and Boston defeated Washington 5-4 in 10 innings.

Cardenas, stepping in for Ed Kasko at shortstop, had two doubles and a single among the Reds' 13 hits off loser Jack Sanford (10-7) and reliever Stu Miller.

Southpaw Jim O'Toole (13-10) was the winner.

The Cards socked loser Stan Williams (11-10), quick, scoring in the first on Bill White's two-run homer. Alex Grammas, a .149 hitter, drove in five runs, three with a seventh-inning double, for the Cards. Lindy McDaniel won his 10th in relief.

Veteran Duke Snider, subbing in center for the benched Tommy Davis, and Maury Wills were the only Dodger starters who failed to hit.

The Braves cracked a 1-1 tie in the second inning at Pittsburgh when Frank Thomas singled off loser Bob Friend (12-16). Spahn, who singled home the first run, gave up 10 hits.

A three run homer by Don Demeter sewed it up in a six-run second inning for the Phils.

Ann Decker Under Par at Seattle

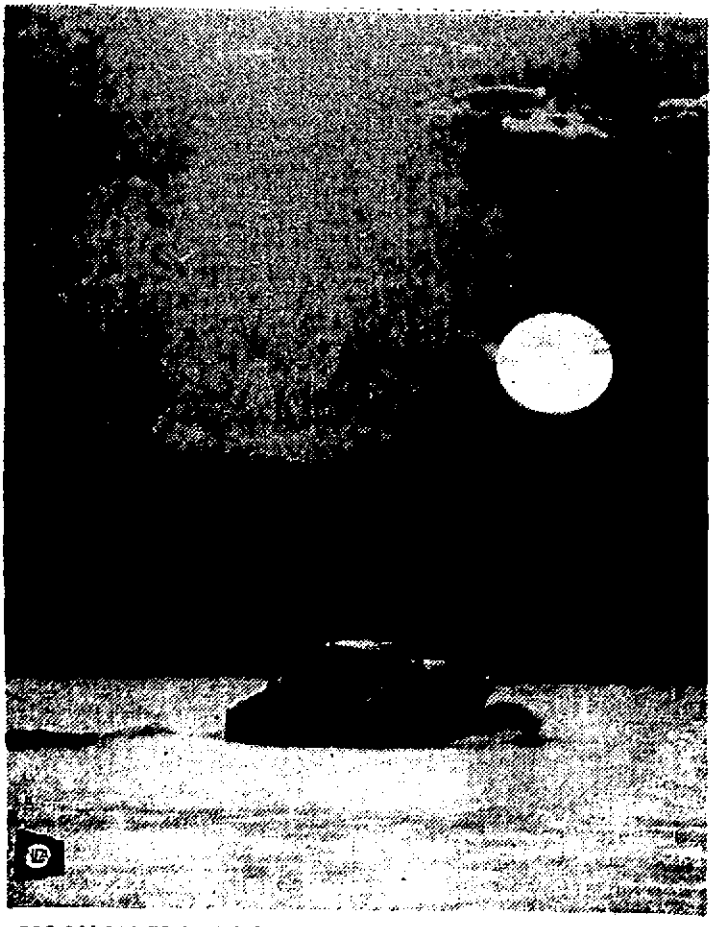

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—One under par after five matches, Anne Quast Decker of Seattle moved into the semifinal round of the USA Women's Amateur Golf Tournament today against Mrs. Gaines Wilson Jr. of Louisville, Ky., three times winner of the Kentucky state title.

In the other 18 hole match, Roberta Albers of Tampa, who at 14 could become the youngest champion in the tourney's history, met Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., and Gregory, Mich.

Mrs. Decker, current Western Amateur champion, is trying to regain the National title she won in 1958. Playing 16 holes of par golf Thursday on the Tacoma Country Club's par 73 layout, she defeated Mrs. Ruth White Miller of Long Beach, Calif.

Another former champion, 1959 winner Barbara McIntire of Jupiter, Fla., was eliminated by Miss Preuss, 3 and 2.

Strong little Miss Albers knocked a ball out of bounds on the second hole to go two over par. But Roberta rallied from that setback to finish one under par for a 7 and 5 victory over MOON MAGIC—Nights on the water give the boating family pleasant navigation practice as well as a head start on a cruise. Calm seas and deserted waterways add appeal.

HIGH STEPPER—An unusual catamaran throws an eye-catching rooster tail. Two 80-horse power outboards pushed this craft to a 67.13 miles-per-hour speed over a rough and windy 65-mile course winning the WinnebagoLand, Wis., Marathon. It is a 19-foot craft.

Youths 19 Leaders in Tennis Play

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Ramsey Earnhart and Marty Riessen, the top-seeded pair of 19-year-olds, enter the third round of the USLTA National Doubles Tennis Championships today where some other ranking men have had trouble.

Earnhart of Ventura, Calif., and Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill. take on unseeded Hugh Quinn of Philadelphia and Bill Wright of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Thursday the American Davis Cup doubles tandem of Chuck McKinley, St. Louis, and Dennis Ralston, Bakerfield, Calif., overcame National Junior champions Charlie Pasarell of San Juan P.R., and Clark Graebner of Lakewood, Ohio, 18-16, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Australian Bob Mark 23, and 47-year-old Gardner Mulloy eliminated Dave Reed, Glendale, Calif., and Henry Kamakana, Honolulu, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

Mexico's third-seeded Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox whipped Adria Bey of Rhodesia, and Alan Lane, Australia, 10-8, 6-2, 6-4.

Ann Hayden and Christine Truman, British Wightman Cup team members, unseeded here, upset third-seeded Australians Jan Lehane and Margaret Smith 11-9, 6-1, moving into the quarterfinals.

The 1960 Missouri state champion, Mrs. Wilson defeated the National Collegiate champion, Judy Hoetner of Seattle, 2 up.

Art Wall Leads at Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Art Wall Jr. says one round doesn't make a tournament but it sure helps.

As a result of a sizzling 3-under-par 67, Wall held the lead in the $50,000 American Golf Classic going into today's second round of the 72-hole tournament over the tough Firestone Country Club's course, a 7,165-yard layout.

Five birdies and one lucky shot helped Wall, who will be 38 in November, take a one-stroke lead over Bob Goalby, Billy Maxwell and Frank Boynton.

Only three others managed to crack the 35-35 par 70. They were Ted Krol, Ken Venturi and Huston LeClair Jr.

Wall made his lucky shot on the par-three 230 yard No. 5. His drive hit a rope post and bounded onto the green, where he two-putted from 35 feet for a par.

Leading scorers:
Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., 34-33-67.
Frank Boynton, Copus Christi, Tex., 35-33-68.
Billy Maxwell, Dallas 34-34-69.
Bob Goalby, Crystal River, Fla., 34-34-68 3.
Ted Kroll, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., 35-34-69.
Huston LeClair, Birmingham, Ala., 37-32-69.
Ken Venturi, San Francisco 35-34-69.

Eagle-Lion Game Prevue of Season

By BOB MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a long time until December but tonight's exhibition clash between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Detroit Lions may give a pretty fair indication of the team to beat in the National Football League this season.

For the game in Detroit Tiger Stadium both the world champion Eagles and the Lions will experiment with reserve quarterbacks. They are King Hill of Philadelphia and Warren Rabb of Detroit.

The Cleveland Browns meet the Los Angeles Rams in Los Angeles in tonight's only other NFL activity.

Three scraps are on the slate in the American Football League where the Dallas Texans have compiled the exhibition campaign's best record of 3-0. The Texans play Denver for the second time this season at Fort Worth. The New York Titans and Houston square off at Greenville, S.C., and Buffalo goes to Boston.

Philadelphia Coach Nick Skorich will give Hill, acquired from St. Louis his first starting quarterback assignment, thinking King may solve part of the problem created by Norm Van Brocklin's departure.

Lion Coach George Wilson will start Rabb despite the fact Earl Morrall has performed magnificently in guiding Detroit to a 35-7.

Al Ballew, Toronto 36-34-50
Jery Barber, Los Angeles 35-35-70.
